

Norway-Japan Academic Network

You are most welcome to participate in the Norway-Japan Academic Network which will be held on Monday, January 30, 2017, at the Research Council of Norway in Oslo. This event is jointly organized by Japan Society for the Promotion of Science (JSPS) Stockholm Office and the Research Council of Norway. The event is targeted to Japanese researchers and students living in Norway and Norwegian researchers and students interested in science in Japan, and it will be a wonderful opportunity to deepen and develop further research exchange and joint research between the two countries.

Before the Norway-Japan Academic Network, a JSPS Meeting will be held for persons with experience of JSPS Programs, during which the establishment of a JSPS Alumni Club in Norway will be discussed. In the meeting, RCN will also present the Noralumni-Japan network to discuss how the JSPS Alumni Club could possibly be connected to this academic network.
