JSPS Norway Japan Academic Network Seminar FY2024

(Feb. 26&27th, 2025)

On the first day, the lecture theme was “Cutting-edge technology for next generation between Norway and Japan”, and on the second day was “The new path of physics and chemistry into the 21st century”. The seminar presented the activities and exchanges developed between Norway and Japan from the point of research, education, and industry in science. This enabled the understanding of the current state of knowledge- human- and economic- exchange in various fields of science between Norway and Japan. Furthermore, the objectives of the research exchange were presented by Nordic and Japan, and mutual understanding and the direction of future project development were confirmed. In this seminar, the active exchange can be presented in science involving natural sciences and medicine related to Norway and Japan and gave new stimulation to basic science in both countries. The Deputy Head of Mission in Embassy of Japan and the Rector of the University of Oslo were among the speakers. The Embassy of Japan, JSPS Stockholm Office and Team Norway(Norges forskningsråd, Innovasjon Norge - Tokyo, Direktoratet for høyere utdanning og kompetanse) presented their funding application and current situation.

For the lecture, one invited speaker from Japan, one from the UK and four from University of Oslo were presented. At JSPS Activity seminar, one invited speaker from Japan, one from Finland, one from Sweden and two from University of Oslo were presented.
